Winwood Music is delighted to announce the publication of the collected original music for brass by Sir William Walton. These performing editions draw on the scholarship and editorial work of the William Walton Edition published by Oxford University Press, presenting the music in elegant new editions – often for the first time!

The availability of these elegant new editions should encourage a much wider knowledge of the composer's ceremonial fanfares – a genre at which he excelled! Walton's original music for brass band, The First Shoot, is presented in a much more playable edition and to compliment it the Medley for Brass Band from which it evolved will be published in the Autumn of 2012.

- Edited by Elgar Howarth
- Based on Walton Edition
- Fresh new engraving
